General Comment

I would prefer that the federal government not regulate how I choose to invest my money. I've been able to choose how, what and where to invest my hard-earned money for over 20 years, and even after the 2008 downturn caused by government and Wall Street collusion, greed and incompetency, I've been able to weather this through my own investing decisions. If these regulations are adopted, savvy investors will start investing outside of the regulated structure because fees and investing costs will increase. Always does with more regulation. I would sign with my real name but in the current political climate, I don't want to be harassed. Thanks.
